THIS IS HOTTY TODDY. YOUR GUIDE TO OleMiss.
Hotty Toddy is our cheer, but it’s so much more. It’s defined by moments of absolute joy. It’s an exchange between kindred spirits. It’s a response to a conquered challenge. It’s your first day on campus. It’s your last day. It’s every time you return. It’s an emotion felt only by those who’ve walked the hallowed grounds of the Grove. Yes, Hotty Toddy is our cheer, but it’s so much more.
Students at the University of Mississippi, affectionately known as Ole Miss, grow and make things happen through more than 370 student organizations spanning academic, cultural, religious, special interest, professional and social interests. You can participate in elected office positions through our student government, known as the Associated Student Body or ASB. Find a cause to champion or create your own adventure!

Whether it’s tailgating in the Grove or greeting a classmate with “Hotty Toddy,” the spirit of Ole Miss runs deep. We’re constantly asking ourselves if we’re ready, even though we already know the answer — a resounding “Yes!” But where is the fun in keeping it to ourselves? So, yell it. Feel it. And above all, live it.

Come be a part of our traditions!
Tyrani Key wanted to go to college somewhere that offered a little bit of everything. She wanted to find great academics and a welcoming environment. She wanted a place that provided opportunities for her to grow and succeed. For the journalism major from Baldwyn, Mississippi, she found all that and more in her time at Ole Miss.

Ole Miss and Oxford gave Tyrani the experiences she knows will open doors everywhere. Tyrani interned as a social media ambassador and enjoyed walks around the local park during her free time.

Tyrani knows Hotty Toddy.
It just means more.

At Ole Miss, you discover why Hot Toddy is cheered by Rebels of all ages. Whether it’s “locking the Vaught” on an autumn Saturday, getting loud with Club Red in The Pavilion or going “Swayze Crazy” from the right field seats, you have the opportunity at Ole Miss to take part in a game-day experience that is second to none.
FAMILY BLOODLINE DEFINES HOTTY TODDY

When you know, you know. Texas native Brooke Roberts was so sure she wanted to spend her college years at Ole Miss, she didn’t even apply anywhere else. Her father was a Rebel, and she doesn’t know a time in her life that wasn’t covered in Red & Blue.

Brooke is coordinator of campus visits in the Office of Admissions here at Ole Miss. She relishes her ties to Oxford, thanks in large part to friendships she has made through her work with the Student Activities Association, her sorority, and the thrill of sitting on the front row at every Ole Miss sporting event she could attend.

COME SEE WHY THEY CALL OXFORD THE “VELVET DITCH.”

Tucked away within the north Mississippi hills is one of the nation’s best college towns. The city of Oxford is a large part of what makes Ole Miss special. From the historic downtown Square, to the epic foodie scene and countless opportunities to enjoy music and the arts, Oxford delivers big-time culture with small-town charm. No matter where life takes you, this place will always feel like home.

There is no place like OXFORD.

A Passion to Serve Defines Hotty Toddy

The college experience is what you make it. For Kenzee Blount, college became an opportunity to discover his passions and set his sights on how to become the best version of himself. For the Independence, Mississippi, native, it was the act of service that has defined his time at Ole Miss.

The general business major, who became involved with numerous organizations, found that running for and serving as the 2021 Homecoming King pulled him out of his comfort zone and allowed him to form deeper connections. His full college experience, aided by mentors and friendships along the way, shaped and prepared him for the future.

Oxford is a mecca for talented writers, performers, artists, musicians and filmmakers. Along with local talent, the city and university draw national artists to perform on campus and in town.

Erin Stanphill had options. She knew she wanted to pursue a Bachelor of Fine Arts in theatre arts, but where would she choose to get it? Because the Fulton, Mississippi, native felt most welcomed at Ole Miss during her campus visit, her decision was easy.

The University of Mississippi ambassador for theatre and film production found a family among her classmates. A family that loves and supports one another. Along with the acting experiences, Erin learned how to control the chaos of a sometimes chaotic schedule during her time at Ole Miss. She has found peace and balance on her way to achieving her dreams of becoming an actress.

THE GROVE

It’s been called many things, from “the Holy Grail of tailgating sites” to “the mother and mistress of outdoor ritual mayhem.” To the Rebels of Ole Miss, it is known simply as Hotty Toddy. Go Rebs!

Very few matter-of-fact things exist in life. When a truth is identified as universal, it brings forth a level of comfort. The Grove boasts a simple fact: It is the best. Rivaled by none. A bucket list fixture for college football fans everywhere. While many other schools participate in the time-honored tradition known as tailgating, none of them—not a single one—does it better than Ole Miss.

To grow as an artist, Oxford native Andrew Gardner needed to look no farther than his hometown. In his time at Ole Miss, the integrated marketing communications major found inspiration from supportive faculty and the room he needed to blossom into a musical juggernaut.

So what makes Oxford and Ole Miss so special? It’s the people. Gardner says the nicest, most caring people in the world gravitate to this amazing community. For him, the pinnacle came at the yearly Double Decker Arts Festival as he and his band, Happy Landing, performed before thousands of people right in the heart of the city.

SENSE OF COMMUNITY DEFINES HOTTY TODDY

In a small coffee shop more than 800 miles from her home, Rene Dupree began making memories she will take with her for the rest of her life. Through an open mic night, the elementary education major from Tampa, Florida, found a sense of community each week on the historic Oxford Square.

Rene thrived during her time at Ole Miss, her home away from home. With the support of her First-Year Experience professor, she found the confidence to land a job on campus in the Career Center. Through the Mississippi Excellence in Teaching Program, she will devote five years after graduation to teaching in a Mississippi public school.

Coming to the University of Mississippi was not Deterrian Jones’ first choice. Four years and countless friendships and opportunities later, the Biloxi native who received a Homecoming King crown found that Ole Miss and Oxford fit his style perfectly.

Deterrian’s infectious personality is what led him to become an orientation leader and student ambassador. He has used these programs to show future students that their right choice might not always be their first choice.

Deterrian’s time at Ole Miss is filled with an energy and style that will leave a lasting legacy.

For a high school sophomore, all it took was seeing the Grove on television. Lauren Hoselton saw the beautiful tulips, smiling students and spring atmosphere of the Ole Miss campus and knew Oxford was where she needed to be.

The Gridley, Illinois, native hit the ground running in Oxford, getting involved in university extracurriculars and the local community. Today, the double major and track-and-field athlete looks back on a college experience full of wonderful memories and — with the support of faculty, coaches and teammates — as a time that shaped who she has become.

As a high school student in Norwalk, California, Carlos Arzate had all the answers. He wanted to go to college and become a pediatrician. After enrolling at Ole Miss, however, Carlos discovered that he wanted to fulfill his passion of helping others in another field that was more fulfilling for him. He will now pursue that passion with a career in higher education helping college students to find their way.

In addition to discovering his path at Ole Miss, the political science major discovered an unrivaled food scene. While discovering new friendships, opportunities and direction to his life, the taste of Oxford stands out for Carlos as a vital part of this experience.

Did you know? Ole Miss has five food trucks on campus where you can enjoy tasty treats like acai bowls and freshly cooked hibachi.

“The Blind Side”
Like many, Carlos took an interest in applying to Ole Miss after watching the incredible story of Michael Oher in “The Blind Side.” The award-winning movie is based on the true story of Michael Oher, who overcame childhood challenges and went on to play football at Ole Miss and in the NFL.
Does anything feel better than taking a leap of faith and everything works out? Emmy Miller took a leap of faith when leaving her home in Mandeville, Louisiana, to enroll at the University of Mississippi. After one game-day experience in the Grove, Emmy knew no other college atmosphere could hold a candle to Ole Miss.

The freshman mechanical engineering major took opportunities provided by the Center for Manufacturing Excellence to land an internship with a Boeing company. With experiences provided by Ole Miss, her sights are set on the skies as she hopes to one day be a pilot and an aerospace engineer.

There is the road less traveled, and there is the road never traveled. Tyler Hawk chose the latter. Coming to Ole Miss, the Charlotte, North Carolina, native dreamed of teaching music theory. While on the path to achieve that goal, he discovered another dream: he wants to conduct as well as teach.

For his new dream to become a reality, changes had to be made. The Department of Music understood his passion to conduct and created a degree path that could take him there.
